

PRIVACY POLICY

Maintaining confidentiality of user information is one of the fundamental principles of AITARGET (hereinafter – “Company”/”We”). Our Privacy Policy and Our Methods of Work are aimed at processing the information you provide in a proper and legal manner and at ensuring its confidentiality, integrity and availability.

This Privacy Policy is a complete statement of the privacy policy of the information you submit applicable to the Company's business. The Policy explains what information you provide, as well as how and for what purpose We use, transmit and protect it. This Privacy Policy also describes your possible actions regarding the use, correction and deletion of the information you provide.

We ask you to get an understanding of this Privacy Policy. If you do not agree with the content of the Privacy Policy upon reading it, you must not provide us with any information.

Using the information you provide, We adhere to the requirements of the applicable laws, including the Data Protection Regulations (EU) 2016/679 (GDPR).

Our Privacy Policy is based on the following information protection principles:

- information must be processed in a lawful, fair and transparent manner;
- information should be collected solely for the achievement of strictly defined, unambiguous and legitimate goals and should not be additionally processed in a manner inconsistent with these goals;
- the collection of information should be carried out in a correct manner and limited exclusively to the relevant information necessary to achieve the goal pursued by the processing of this information;
- the information must be accurate and, if necessary, must be updated;
- all reasonable measures should be taken to guarantee the immediate deletion or correction of information;
- information shall not to be disclosed and shall be stored in a way that ensures its proper security;

- information shall not be transferred to third parties, unless such transfer is necessary for us to be able to provide you with services;
- you have the right to access, modify or delete the information, to restrict or object to its processing, and you have the right to transfer it.

Collection of information

If you have an intention to use Our Services, We may ask you to provide information so that We may carry out Our work, provide Our services and improve their level. You may transmit information through Our site: <http://www.aitarget.com>, email: info@aitarget.com or other electronic or software solutions We support. We process the information you provide solely to the extent necessary to achieve strictly defined, unambiguous and legitimate goals, or for the purpose, the achievement of which is required by the legislation of the country in which We operate.

The information We collect includes names and email addresses. We collect this information in order to provide Our services.

In addition, We collect information for other purposes, for example, statistics, administrative and communication tasks and IT administration.

Use of Information

We use the information for the purposes, which it is being collected for, and store it only for the time necessary to achieve these goals. We may store information as long as it is necessary to provide Our services, to fulfill Our legal duties or to achieve any of the above objectives. Access to your information is provided exclusively to employees of Our Company as well as to affiliated organizations that have the appropriate permission and a clear business need for access to information.

Use of cookie files

Our website <http://www.aitarget.com> uses cookies or similar technological solutions to ensure maximum user convenience for analyzing trends, managing the site, tracking user behavior on the site and collecting demographic information about Our customer base as a whole. Cookies are small text files written to the memory of your device to track patterns of user behavior and take into account preferred parameters. Our cookies do not contain information that can directly or indirectly identify a person. We automatically collect certain information using cookies and tracking tools, such as an Internet Protocol (IP) address; browser type; Internet Service Provider (ISP); the pages from which the user entered and left the website; files viewed on Our site (for example, HTML pages, images); operating system; date and time stamp; and / or click statistics to analyze general trends and to manage the site. You can control the use of cookies at your browser level, but if you decide to disable cookies, this may limit the availability of certain functions and features of Our website or service.

Information transfer

We transfer the information you provide to third parties only under the following circumstances:

- if you have given consent to this;
- if the purpose of this information transfer is directly related to the purpose for which the information was initially collected;
- if it is necessary to provide you with services;
- if required by law, administrative or judicial order;
- if it is required to substantiate or defend a claim or to defend a lawsuit;
- if it is necessary to fulfill the legitimate requirements of public authorities, including security services and law enforcement agencies;
- if it is required to prevent abuse or other illegal actions, such as coordinated attacks, to ensure data integrity.

Information Processing Security

One of the most important principles of Our work is to ensure the security of the information you provide. We process your information, taking care of its security, implement and maintain appropriate technology from accidental or unlawful destruction or accidental loss, alteration, unauthorized disclosure or access, in particular, if processing involves the transmission of information over the network, as well as protection from other forms of unlawful use.

Your rights to protect the information provided

You have the right at any time to request access to the information you submit, its correction or deletion, prohibit its processing or object to its processing, as well as the right to transfer information. In order to maintain the current status of the information, We recommend that you inform us of any changes or inaccuracies. If you want to view and / or edit your information; either you want to know how long We plan to store your information, or ask another question related to access to information; You can write us an e-mail at info@aitarget.com and We will make every effort to answer your question as quickly as possible.

Responsibility

We are responsible for compliance with the requirements and principles set forth in this Privacy Policy, and are ready to demonstrate such compliance at any time.

Complaints

You have the right, via the email address above, to send complaints regarding how We process the information you provide. We make efforts to timely and in accordance with internal regulations consider all requests and complaints.

Changes to this Privacy Policy

Periodically, this Privacy Policy may be amended, for example, in case of changes in relevant legislation or other external and internal factors. Please when visiting Our website <http://www.aitarget.com>, pay attention to information related to changes in the Privacy Policy.

Our contacts:

AITARGET INC.
54 W 40th St New York, 10018
info@aitarget.com

Effective date - July 1, 2018